

For our team in Pfungstadt, we are looking for a Salesforce Consultant (m/f/d)

Your tasks

- planning and management of product rollouts for Salesforce projects with enterprise customers in close cooperation with development and sales
- managing schedule, functional scope and deliverables in software implementation projects
- functional analyses of customer use cases in Salesforce
- ensuring successful product rollouts and customer satisfaction
- close coordination with product management to define the standard product functions of the eperi product

Our expectations

- practical experience in project management or consulting of Salesforce projects
- analytical thinking and structured working methods
- professional appearance and representation of eperi
- optional skills, including:
 - Salesforce certification as “Salesforce Administrator” or “Salesforce Consultant”
 - experience in support management
 - basic technical understanding of enterprise architectures
 - references of successful cooperation with agile dev teams
- independent, responsible, solution-oriented
- commitment and a flexible team player attitude
- very good command of written and spoken German and English

We offer

- a permanent position and an attractive workplace in an innovative high-tech enterprise
- opportunity to contribute to a growing standard solution for the IT security market
- valuable domain knowledge in the IT security sector
- high-quality work tools like UHD monitors and ultrabooks
- a respectful and trustful office culture
- an attractive and competitive salary

About eperi

We are the leading provider of Cloud Data Protection solutions with 15 years of experience in data encryption for databases, (SaaS) applications and files. Several hundred enterprise customers already secure their data using our solutions. Our headquarters are located in Greater Frankfurt, Germany. eperi is led by founder and CEO Elmar Eperiesi-Beck. We are a technology partner of T-Systems, IBM, Microsoft, NTT Security and MariaDB and a successful, steadily growing enterprise.

Contact

Does this sound exactly like the job made for you and your skills? Then feel free to contact us. Please send your application including your estimated starting date and salary to:

Sinah Karatas

Mail: jobs@eperi.de

Tel.: +49 (0) 6157 9 56 39 00