

For our team in Pfungstadt, we are looking for a Salesforce Developer (m/f/d)

Your tasks

- software design & development in an agile (Scrum) team
- analysis / reverse engineering of Salesforce features
- analysis and changing of APEX code of customers

Our expectations

- analytical approach and curiosity about how things work, not only if they work
- more than 6 months of working experience in professional software development with Java and APEX
- working experience with relational database systems
- in-depth understanding of network protocols and web services (SOAP and REST)
- optional skills, including:
  - Salesforce certifications
  - knowledge about Java EE, Maven, OSGi & Apache Tomcat
  - working experience with Scrum, Jira and version control systems
  - basic cryptography knowledge
- responsibility, commitment and team spirit
- fluent English skills; basic German skills

We offer

- a permanent position and an attractive workplace in an innovative high-tech enterprise
- opportunity to contribute to a growing standard solution for the IT security market
- valuable domain knowledge in the IT security sector
- high-quality work tools like UHD monitors and ultrabooks
- a respectful and trustful office culture
- an attractive and competitive salary

About eperi

We are the leading provider of Cloud Data Protection solutions with 15 years of experience in data encryption for databases, (SaaS) applications and files. Several hundred enterprise customers already secure their data using our solutions. Our headquarters are located in Greater Frankfurt, Germany. eperi is led by founder and CEO Elmar Eperiesi-Beck. We are a technology partner of T-Systems, IBM, Microsoft, NTT Security and MariaDB and a successful, steadily growing enterprise.

Contact

Does this sound exactly like the job made for you and your skills? Then feel free to contact us. Please send your application including your estimated starting date and salary to:

Sinah Karatas

Mail: jobs@eperi.de

Tel.: +49 (0) 6157 9 56 39 00